An updated kitchen signed Jean-François Méthot

Jean-François Méthot is passionate about cooking from an early age. An emeritus creator, he brings pride of place to Quebec products.

In 2002, he won the Renaud-Cyr award, which recognizes the exceptional work of table professionals for their remarkable contribution to Quebec’s gastronomic culture. He has a real passion for teaching his art and passing on his knowledge: In this profession, we never finished learning, but I try to convey to young people the rigour and the importance of knowing the classical basics. No matter what new techniques and trends come along, real good, tasty food is made with good products, and I hope it will always be.” Jean-François was executive chef at Hostellerie les Trois-Tilleuls Relais & Châteaux for over 11 years.

He was also responsible for opening the Le Coureur des Bois culinary bistro at the Hôtel Rive-Gauche in Beloeil, where he served as executive chef for nine years. In 2020, as Chef of Club Saint-James, he set himself the goal of impressing members and their guests by offering them gourmet cuisine that meets their expectations.
